WE NOMINATE

Malvern Reeve, one of New Jersey's "senior senior citizens" and in a nation as young as these United States an institution in himself, whose 100th birthday on June 17th is giving picturesque Rocky Hill a sense of its heritage and an opportunity to pay its deep respect to a remarkable individual. This coming Saturday afternoon an entire community, ranging from "the town fathers" to the great-great grandsons of some once close to Dr. Reeve, will "pass in review" before the Crescent Avenue home of a dedicated "country doctor" who only retired from medical practice at age 94 — six short years ago.

While Dr. Reeve's participation in the observance may be curtailed by his physicians, there can be no doubt about the enthusiasm of the sponsors. Interest has snowballed to the degree that the Reeve Centennial completely overshadows any local memories of the New Jersey Tercentenary. There are apparently few in Rocky Hill not aware that Dr. Reeve (in a municipality with a population now in excess of 700 persons) delivered some 5,000 babies, that in yesteryear he crisscrossed the Rocky Hill-Kingston Area by horse and buggy, that he acquired one of the village's first automobiles — "a Ford touring car" equipped with cans of gasoline and dozens of tire patches.

One of the marchers in Saturday's parade relishes memories of "the doctor" and how, generation by generation, he "ushered my whole family into the world." Years before Princeton and Somerset Hospitals were brought into being, and when transporting a patient over a meandering road-net was not something to be undertaken lightly, he recalls: "He always got us well and most often, it seemed, with colored pills taken with a half-glass of water. He seldom gave the impression of being hurried and, after treating a child's injuries, invariably found a lollipop in the bottom of his bag. I still remember that as a little girl I even loved the way he smelled of cigars!"

From one of Princeton's best-known men of medicine, also a Reeve baby, comes the reminiscence of how over the course of some six decades Dr. Reeve "always answered a call," whatever the time of year and wherever the location. Nor was the practice of medicine in the pre-Depression Years invariably a paying proposition. Like the general practitioners depicted in biography and fiction, Reeve's modest fees for "house calls" were frequently months late and sometimes "in kind" — eggs, chickens, vegetables and "fruits in season" for visits that might have involved trudging on foot through head-high drifts of snow on the Rocky Hill-Kingston railroad tracks.

The second doctor to move into Rocky Hill in the late 19th century, this slightly built Philadelphian, who delivered his last baby shortly before his 93d birthday, was trained in Hahnemann Medical College and practiced briefly in Bridgeton, N. J. where he met his late wife, once described as "Rocky Hill's first citizen." Together, starting in 1898, they handled an ever-demanding rural practice, battled the "horrible flu epidemic of 1918," raised and lost an only son, and played major roles in community organizations, including the Dutch Reformed Church and Rocky Hill's Hook and Ladder Company Number One.

For his close affiliation with any community enterprise which has sought "to do good"; for symbolizing for admiring friends and neighbors the traditions of service Americans associate with the medical profession; for linking to the turbulent present visions of a more serene past; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee as

"I'll WALK BESIDE YOU" Gary Konoover to Graduate. Nearly 15 years ago, four-year-old Gary Konoover, son of Mrs. Mary Riker, walked across the playground at the Leigh Avenue nursery school with his arm around the shoulders of a three-year-old newcomer.

Halfway across the room, he dropped his arm and said to the little girl, who was blind, "This isn't doing you a bit of good, Gary. But I'll be beside you so's you won't get hurt."

Next Wednesday, Gary Elizabeth Konoover, now 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley A. Konoover of 13 Palton Avenue, will graduate from Princeton High School. The first blind student known to the Borough public school system, Gary has devastated her teachers, one by one.

"She'd go flying down the steps," says Mrs. Terry Volwieder, her fifth grade teacher at Nassau Street School. "I'd tell her, 'Gary, you'll give me a heart attack.' You'd just call over her shoulder, 'I'm all right!'" A few years later Howard Waxwood, principal at Witherspoon, called her down for running in the halls.

The Name Fits. Carmen Precioso, who has taught her Spanish and French at the high school, comments, "Her name is a prop. She's so alive and gay in everything she does. When she is in Europe with the Choir, she sent me a card in braille. She won't read it to me — insists that I go to the encyclopedia."

"The interesting thing," recalls Mrs. Dorotha Laumig, now Nassau Street principal, "was that each teacher would have some appreciation at first. It took Gary about two days to dispel this."

"I taught her in fourth grade and found her so creative. A child would write a poem and Gary would say, 'I'll put that to music tonight.' The next day we'd have a new song."

Her classmates have always adopted Joe Riker's attitude. "They learned not to cater to her," Mrs. Volwieder says. "Gary had a very forceful personality, but when there was a fire drill a child would always be right beside her, and she knew they meant business. Connie Mather and Bill Woodson were always alert to her."

"Most of the time," Judy Suroey adds, "we forget she is blind."

"PARIS IS AS BEAUTIFUL" as we saw it in class. Gary Konoover told her French teacher, or on her return from the European tour with the Princeton High School Choir. One of this year's graduates, she is the first blind student to receive all of her education in the Borough public schools. Story this page.

A Busy Girl. Gary has taken leading roles in the school plays, studied the piano, clarinet, violin, guitar and voice and attended school dances. She sang in the Witherspoon choir club and the High School and First Presbyterian Church choirs. She was a feature columnist for the PHS "Towers" and a member of the Girl's Athletic Association and the high school Peg Club.

She received the American Legion Award at Witherspoon graduation, Latin awards and school honors at PHS. This year, the Soroptimist Club gave her its Citizenship award, and she was runner-up among 18 students for the Soroptimists' Northeast Atlantic Region award.

"Just last week," said Mr. Warwood, "I went to an executive committee meeting of the Cancer Society and who should appear but Gary — representing the Rainbow Girls!" She explained she'd been accepted by Gettysburg College, where she was going to study music, and that she wouldn't be able to help for a while.

Gary has worked for Recording for the Blind, served on the Youth Fellowship Council at her church and, last Christmas, took her guitar to the Neuro - Psychiatric Institute where she entertained the patients with folk songs. "She was just so casual and friendly," Mrs. Laumig remarks. "I honestly feel," she adds, "that Gary's success lies with her parents. They wanted her to be considered a sighted child — to try to go almost anything at all."

Quick in Math. "Her mother said one day that she was teaching Gary how to iron," Mrs. Sara Harris, her math and science teacher in sixth grade, says. "That dear, lovely child, I wouldn't have missed having her in my class for all the world."

"The cute way she used to ask, 'The seeing children,' she'd say. And she was just as fast and quick in math. She could multiply 98 x 76 in her head while everybody else was doing it on paper, and most likely fail at first. I have never had a child like Gary."

None of Gary's teachers had training in teaching the blind. The first woman she unknowingly educated was Miss Evangelina Miller, head of the Princeton Nursery School on Leigh Avenue.

"I'd love to take her," Miss Miller told Mrs. Konoover, "but we'd have to add another person to the staff." But when she met Gary a few days later, "I knew I couldn't do without her. What the school did for Gary is nothing compared to what Gary did for us. She was the first of four blind children we have had here."

"She was very strong-minded young one. I remember that she said to me one day, 'I am going to leave this school and I am never, never coming back.' When I told her that 'everybody here loves you, so many people love you,' she said very firmly, 'Just a minute, Miss Miller, you must remember so mother how mad I got at you, I always love you.'"

Miss Miller thought and said, "Her parents are extraordinary. After all, Gary with all her lights could have been a brat. I remember her father said on the first day, 'Please don't spoil her.'"

The Teachers Learned. From Leigh Avenue, Gary went to Mrs. Charlie Potter's kindergarten class at Nassau Street. She progressed to the classroom of Mrs. R. U. H. Griggs, Mrs. Bertha Follis, Mrs. Annette Guenther, Mrs. Lummis and Mrs. Volwieder. At Witherspoon, she was taught by Mrs. Helen Derrohn, Larry Ivan and Frank Jaxheimer. She trained them all in her own way.

Each classroom was equipped with a special bookcase for Gary's braille books and recordings. She had her own typewriter for writing and instruments for figuring.

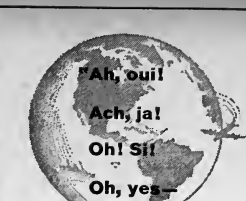

The teachers supplied the J. I. Commission for the Blind with a list of the books she required nearly a year before she entered their classes. "And on the first day of school, her books were already ready."

Daring Nassau Street days. Miss Agnes Stone came from the Commission with a regular schedule to teach her basic skills in braille. Blind, she said, now married to Jerome Allen and the mother of a child, she made a strong contribution to Gary's remarkably normal thinking.

As one teacher recalled, Gary said one day, "You know, my mother and father have been to Pomona and my sister Barbara. But I haven't. Maybe I'll get married. I will go there on my honeymoon."

"Success Story." School Superintendent Chester

Stroup has never regretted the day "when Eve Miller inveigled me into taking my young-sax into the public school system. This has been a happy success story all the way through. . . a marvelous experience for all the children and faculty."
"It has demonstrated that sightless children can go through the public schools with a little special help along the way. We were told by the Commission for the Blind that Princeton is one of the few places in the country where this has been attempted. I feel strongly that sightless children have the same need for being with their peers as other children."

"I must say, too, that her parents certainly deserve tremendous credit for the kind of support they gave to the school during this whole undertaking. This is what gave us the confidence to go ahead."

The former principal of the high school, William Rhodes, who is now secretary to the Board of Education, comments, "Gaye is very easy to meet. . . outgoing and no shrinking violet!"

"If Gaye disagrees," Mr. Prezioso laughs, "her hand goes flying up. She's going to specify her piece. She has no handicap, really. She has tought all of her problems. . . No Special Privileges! Her special friends, Beth Marvel and Judy Suecup, know, "She dislikes special privileges because she's blind. It embarrasses her."

Thomas Hishbush, who trains her in the choir, says thoughtfully, "I don't think of her blindness at all. She has a lovely soprano voice." His wife who is Gaye's voice teacher, marvels, "She is very competent. Do you know she greets beautifully — and at high speed, of course!"

Her guidance counselor, Mrs. Molly Uspidky, who found time to draw geometry figures in braille for Gaye, is fascinated by her choice of harmonious colors in her dress. "I can feel the color when I buy it," Gaye told her.

Her teachers at PHS have included Catherine Campbell, William Harries Paul, Leonard, Mrs. Harriet Peterson, Joan Granger, William Aulton, Donald Blankenhorn, Claire Raglin, Sylvan Friedman (who also taught her music at the Nassau Street School), George Thompson and Elmer Savage.

A few days ago, in assembly she was sitting with Beth and Judy when the Gold Key award was announced. Mrs. Florence Burke tapped her on the shoulder and walked part of the way down the aisle with her. Gaye went on alone and stopped.

Jay Breese, president of the Student Council, came down and met her. He walked beside her to the platform where Gaye received the school's highest award.

PRINCETON BANK VICTIM
Of "Paperhanger," a "paperhanger," police paraded for worthless check-passer — piled his trade successfully here last week when he cashed a fraudulent $200 check at the Princeton Bank and Trust Company. Chief Peter J. McCrohan said that the description of the paper supplied by the teller fitted that of Harvey Markman who is wanted all over the U.S. for passing worthless checks.

Police said that a man who identified himself as Jack Cohen approached a teller last Thursday and said he wished to open an account. About an hour later, police continued, Cohen approached the same teller and said he wished to cash a check for $200 drawn on a Trenton Bank and signed by a Dr. Paul Cohen.

Labor, in answer to a call, the Trenton bank reported there was no such account.

THREE CARS DAMAGED
By Vandals. Three cars were damaged last week by vandals, Borough police report. Eric Mihan, owner of the English Shop on Nassau Street, reported the antenna and the windshield of his car were damaged while it was parked in the lot at the rear of his store. Sterling Elston, 25 Green Street, said the windshield of his car had been broken Thursday between 12:15 and 2:30 p.m. It had been parked in front of 26 Green.

Percy Tumbler, greengrocer for the Springleaf Golf Club, who lives on the premises, told police the top of his convertible was slashed while it was parked on Palmer Square E. near the taxi stand. He said the slashing occurred sometime Friday night.

COMMENCEMENT HELD
Honorary Degrees Awarded.
Princeton University, in ceremonies dating back to Colonial times, awarded 1,254 bachelor's advanced and honorary degrees Tuesday in front of Nassau Hall. It was the University's 218th commencement.

Archibald MacLachlan, poet. A. D. W. Wyeth, American painter, and Sir High Taylor, Dean Emeritus of the Princeton Graduate School, were among those who received honorary degrees from President Robert F. Goheen.

Dean J. Merrill Knapp presented to Dr. Goheen the 767 undergraduate candidates for degrees, and Dr. Russell Alfr Fraser, Associate Dean of the Graduate School, presented the candidates for advanced degrees. Among the latter were 56 masters of science in engineering, 18 masters of public affairs, 198 masters of arts, 23 masters of fine arts and 171 doctors of philosophy. Forty-one students of the District of Columbia, the Panama Canal Zone and 14 foreign countries were represented in the class of 1965. The list includes 135 from New York State, 101 from New Jersey, 90 from Pennsylvania, 48 from Illinois, 42 from Connecticut, 37 from Ohio, 28 from California and 25 from Virginia.

James F. Oates Jr., Charter Trustee, presented the candidates for honorary degrees, including, besides the three named above, Hugh L. Dryden, deputy administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration; George Seferis, Greek poet and diplomat; Gerard J. Campbell, president of Georgetown University.

Kenneth Onwuka Dike, vice-chancellor of the University of Ibadan, Nigeria; Adrian S. Fisher, deputy director of the U.S. Army Control and Disarmament Agency; Henry R. Labouisse, executive director of UNICEF and Lord Cardigan of St. Cleer, permanent British representative to the U.N.

IT'S NEVER TOO LATE

To Win a Degree. It takes most undergraduates four years to earn a Princeton diploma, which makes it rather unusual for William C. Fuchhart of Warren, Penna., a member of the class of 1925, to have graduated on Tuesday with the class of 1965.

As an undergraduate Mr. Fuchhart majored in history, but lacked one course for his degree. He had planned to take a reading course the following summer, but changed his plans.

Now semi-retired, he requested permission last fall to take a course in "American Government." This permission was granted and he was accredited with a course passed at Edinboro State Teachers College near his home.

Mr. Fuchhart has three sons, all Princeton alumni, and during the weekend he attended the 40th reunion of his own class. Members of his family, including sons and grandchildren, were present for his graduation.

Mr. Fuchhart made a brief speech on Tuesday, to his fellow seniors: "It took me 44 years to do what you fellows did in four."

The Gang's All Here. At the firehouse on Washington Street, the motorcycle will be joined by other friends of the doctor: Boy and Girl Scouts, Rocky Hill Community Group Juniors with a "Happy Birthday" to residents of Rocky Hill and "Dr. Reeve Babies"—men, women and children of all ages whom he delivered at birth. The oldest and the youngest will be honored.

The parade will then return to Dr. Reeve's Crescent Avenue home where a brief program will take place. A large birthday cake will be presented by merchants of Rocky Hill while organizations extending help and gifts to the doctor will include the Mayor and Council members of the fire company, Somerset County Firemen's Association, Princeton Lodge No. 38, F. & A. MISS DATS HONORED. Recieves Trip. Plan. A trip abroad, anytime anywhere, has been presented to Miss Sheryl Davis, retiring headmistress of Miss Pine's School, by alumni. Locals and parents associated with the school.

The presentation was made on June 9 at a luncheon given at the Present Day Club by the Miss Pine's School Alumni Association. In addition, Miss Davis received from the Association a gold pin engraved with an "F" and the year's making her affiliation with the school.

Mr. Joseph E. Biscardi III, president of the Alumni Association, presided at the luncheon, and Mrs. Francis Biscardi, president of the Parents' Association, addressed the group. Mrs. Robert M. Meyers offered a toast on behalf of the faculty.

At the Association's annual meeting held before the luncheon, the following new officers were chosen: Mrs. G. Reginald Maguire, the new president; Mr. Wilton T. Sargain, treasurer; and Mrs. Richard Schulz, Outdoors Scout trustee.

FOOT LOCKER TAKEN. Held $400 Drivng Outfit. Borough police recovered two sprockets of stolen foot lockers on Sunday which contained articles valued at some $500. Lawrence Karpene, a 16-year-old swimmer at the "Cottage," reported his locker missing contained a complete swim drivng outfit which he valued at $400. He had been June 24. At Rocky Hill Pool. The River Bend Recreation Association has announced the opening of its swimming season for June 24. This will be the 12th year of operation of the pool, which has a membership of about 2,000. Louis R. # GET $3000 IN LOOT

In Pennington Robbery. Early last Wednesday morning robbers broke into the Twin Pines Sales & Service Shop at 14 North Main Street, Pennington, and escaped with numerous electrical appliances valued at $3000. A small amount of cash was also taken.

The theft was discovered in the morning by owner William Weasner. Among the items listed as taken were five television sets, four or five television sets, 12 transistor radios and several electric toasters and tape recorders.

Before breaking a rear bathroom window of the store to gain entry the burglars first killed a neighbor's dog by smashing his skull with a blunt mallet. After disposing of the dog they then cut telephone wires leading to the store. State Police Troopers Albert Waldron and Jack Caldoro are conducting the investigation. Police believe the dog was familiar with his attackers because neighbors in the area reported they did not hear any barking.

UNITED NATIONS DEFENDED: Eugene Maybury's confidence in the ability of the United Nations to maintain peace has not been shaken. Less sanguine opinions were offered by half of those asked whether their confidence in the U.N. has diminished. (Staff Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: Has your confidence in the ability of the United Nations to maintain peace diminished?

Where asked: Palmer Square.

Eugene Maybury, 39 Humbert Street, special traffic officer, Borough: No, not at all. I still feel the U.N. can do the job. It's doing a good job with what it got, considering all the restrictions and lack of cooperation it must contend with. I think we have to have confidence in them; we still depend on them more than anyone else to keep the peace.

Allen Hartley, 811 State Road, tree surgeon: Yes, very much so. I don't believe it has achieved what it's supposed to achieve. Seems to me to be more of a debating society than anything else.

Dill Jones, New York City, jazz musician, here to play during reunion weekend: No, not really. I think they're still trying and, in trying, there is always some hope. At least the United Nations is a civilized organization. It stands for something important. I'm still encouraged.

Richard Sascione, 418 Devereux Street, graduate student, chemistry: No, it hasn't as far as the rest of the nations of the world go. I feel they do look toward the United Nations as being an international, impartial body where they can settle debates. This is much preferable to fighting it out, as you can see by Cyprus and the Dominican Republic. Although its effectiveness has been handicapped by the two great powers—Russia and the United States—through their use of the veto power in the Security Council, some of its functions have been effective in maintaining peace. Witness the Congo and even the Cuban military crisis. If the great powers would stop trying to manipulate the U.N. and treat it as a representative international body, it would be even more effective.

Miss Priscilla Waring, Carter Road, June graduate, Georgetown University, foreign service school: Yes, it has. I feel it has dropped primarily due to the lack of strong leadership it had under Dag Hammarskjöld and due to a general lack of desire on the part of our fellow nations to cooperate under the aegis of the United Nations, such as not paying their dues.

Charles Higgins, Princeton Pike, teacher: No, I don't think I feel the citizens might work a little harder at peace but I feel the U.N. does as much as can be expected. It's working to capacity. It is hamstrung so much it is difficult for it to accomplish as much as people would hope.

Mrs. Nadine Collinson, 347 Mercer Road, housewife: Sometimes I feel it is all right but then I talk with friends from overseas and they feel it doesn't have any effect and my opinion drops. Then again, whenever we have some kind of crisis and they lean on the United Nations and we come out of it, my faith is restored. I've often asked myself, "How do I stand on the U.N.?" and I blow hot and cold. Right now I feel good about it.

Ray Birkenland, Sunset Hill, minister: Yes, definitely so. I believe the United Nations is primarily a debating society at the present time and I don't believe we can expect world peace apart from the face of individuals and nations recognizing there are spiritual values they must cope with in addition to social, economic and political needs. I believe the U.N. reflects the basic weakness of man in general because it was established by man and reflects the thinking of man. The problem, basically is this: International peace and brotherhood cannot really be brought about until men recognize on an individual basis the relevancy of Jesus Christ to their own lives. Only a minority in the world have done this.

Mrs. Claude Labrumie, 44 Alexander Street, native of Haiti whose husband is attending The Theological Seminary: I feel very good about the United Nations. I feel the world needs it and I would feel very bad for the world if it ceased to be. I think the United States must give all the support it can to it. I still feel the U.N. can accomplish a lot—it has already. I still have a lot of faith in it and I believe most Bahaians do, too.

M. F. Barbour, Skillman, operating engineer: Yes, I'm afraid so. It didn't do very well trying to get the Dominican situation straightened out. Also, the Viet Nam thing isn't very good. Yes, it's lost some of its effectiveness, in my opinion.

John Brennan, 497 Prospect Street, architect: Not diminished because I feel it never had too many teeth in it as a peace-making organization. It wasn't well organized for that right from the beginning. I certainly wouldn't give it a lot of credit for that. It's too slow and it will never be strong so long as the veto power remains the way it is.

Tom Pearson, student, Theological Seminary: No, not over the last six months. I don't believe anything significant has happened since then but, if you go back six to eight years, since the Korean War, there were many occasions for significant action. Since then, the U.N. hasn't done anything.

TO SING PUCINI

In Open Air Theatre, "Sister Angelica," a rarely heard Puccini opera will be sung in Washington Crossing's Open Air Theatre Saturday at 8:30 by members of the Princeton Opera Association.

Igor Chichagov, artistic director of the Association, has divided the singers and will provide the piano accompaniment. Mr. Chichagov is now in his twelfth year as conductor of the Baltimore Civic Opera Company.

She was designed for this performance by Vladimir Odonov of the Metropolitan Opera Association of New York.

The cast will include Keitha Neesham as Sister Angelica, and Nancy Jackson, Marie Long, Ruth Maters, Mary Lynne Burd, Jane Chrimmer, Mary Alice Witte, Rosalind Levison, Jane Kuever, Kathleen Lucaski, Joanna DiMatta, Edith Wilson, Ann Sawyer, Karen Barakat and Mary Meyer.

The Princeton Opera Association was formed three years ago to give talented students and professional singers the chance to study opera repertoire. Singers come from communities around Trenton and New Brunswick as well as from the immediate Princeton area.

Admission to the Washington Crossing performance is $1.50. Tickets are on sale at Hinkov's, through the Princeton Opera Association or at the "door" on the night of the concert.

36 DANCERS WIN

In Regional Ballet Auditions, placement in the Princeton Regional Ballet corps has been set as a result of auditions held in Princeton June 6. The dancers, 14 in all, are dancing schools in the central New Jersey region.

Two young dancers, Linda Zettie of Levittown, Pa., and Alex Mc Laurence of Trenton, who received top scores in the judging, will be given full dance scholarships for membership and training in next season's regional ballet company. Scholarship funds were raised by a benefit tea dance held May 23 at the Princeton Inn.

Princeton dancers who won places in the Senior Company are Dorothy Pettit and Allison Cawley, both of the Ann Arbor School of Dance and both former Junior Company members. Jane de Burlo, Tena Davis, Linda Dobson, Natalie Burton and Karen Warner of the Princeton School of Ballet and Maxine Lampert and Naomi Sharon of the Bernice Lampert School.

Suzanne Conover of Pennsylvania, a student at the Francis Kierman School and Marijo Attenborough of Kendall Park, a student at the Princeton School, were also tapped for Senior Company positions.

"It is exciting to see the growing cooperation if it is teachers in the area," said Audrey Estey, artistic director of the regional ballet, "and to realize what a high level of teaching prevails in their studios. I am personally pleased with this fine indication of the ambitions and determination of the dancers themselves."

Judges for the auditions were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Conover of the Metropolitan Opera Ballet School and Nellie Fisher of the Nellie Fisher Ballet Company, New York. Audition classes were conducted by Igor Tsekvetsh, former star of the Ballet Russes and the American Ballet Theatre.

PRINCE
McHale's Navy Joins the Air Force (The Prince) This is a cute sequel to the television show. It's zany and full of slapstick.
The story is set on the South Pacific island of Tarapunga. Trouble begins when Captain Birmingham, played by Joe Flynn, decides to use the crew's PT boat for a mission to Brisbane, Australia. The boat is favored mysteriously sink there is a mad Australian episode involving Russian agents, a hardened Army general, his woman-chasing son, and bumbling, stumping, Ensign Parker, played by Tim

IT'S NEW To Us

YOUR POOL AUTOMATED?

Take the Plunge. They were telling us out at Sylvan Pools' Shopping Center Office the other day that home swimming pools have never required less work to maintain than they do in 1963 and that the most exercise a pool owner is likely to get this summer is a lany crane from one end of his pool to another.

It's all because of automation, chiefly along the line of improved filters, cleaners and chlorinators. You take that old-style filter, the big one you had with your 1955 pool, and you lose it out, because Sylvan's improved filter can be housed in a deckside chest which is chip-shape enough to be used as a decorative seat.

Inside the chest, the big one filters turn the water over faster, filtering out dirt while it is still in suspension before it has had a chance to settle on the walls and floor of the pool. Brushing and vacuuming are almost eliminated by the new Sylvan automatic cleaning devices. The swirl-clean system uses two filters, one at each end of the pool, two surge skimmers and two drains to increase water velocity.

Another Sylvan system uses bags which sweep around the pool, dislodging the dirt, and another has floating devices which are used for the same purpose.

It used to be that automatic chlorinators were used only in the big commercial swimming pools, but Sylvan now has them adapted for residential pools.

One kind converts ordinary table salt into chlorine by electrolysis (remember 8 1/2).

Swi Ahead

You may think it's June and in fact it is, but do you remember how long it took you, the last time you made a tailored wool suit?

With you in mind, the Fabric Shop on Chambers Street has begun to stock its fall and winter wools, and the next time the humidity goes to 90, we suggest a stop-over and a planning session.

At the moment, the selection is very small, of course, but who knows? Perhaps you'll find a hewed of your life the first time you look.

grade science?); another feeds chlorine in either liquid or powdered form gradually into the pool by means of a pump and a small send-out of water over sticks of Duxan chemicals, eroding the chemical right into the water.

Leaving automation for a moment, have you thought of cool nights next fall and a dip before dinner? In case you find we've been dizzy by the heat, let us suggest that Sylvan installs heaters on 75% of the pools it builds, and these heated pools can be used about twice as long over the year as pools without heat water. Good pool heaters will raise the water temperature as much as 20 degrees.

Anyone for a steam bath?

GOING TO CAMP?

Allen's is, "Tough" is the word used most frequently to describe the gear trundled off to summer camp. Normally durable little boys and girls apparently become snarling, tearing beasts once they arrive in Camp Wannago-Hum, and Allen's at 134 Nassau, is equipped with the toughest clothes in town for the town's toughest campers.

Start with the boys' khaki camp shorts, boxer backed with great pockets to hold horn shorts and junior counselors. A zipper pocket, a slanted zipper pocket, a clamp for flashlight and a good strong belt complete the costume. $2.92 to size 16.

There are also dark blue denims, green and "white" (pale tan) for boys—and girls—with different aesthetic requirements.

Yellow slickers with hoods are tougher than oilskin and completely washable. They are made for boys and girls, and girls who want style, even around a campfire, will pick the "wet look" suits with those big industrial zippers down the front.

Boy's shirts this summer are Henley, and nothing else but. The Henley shirt is white cotton print trimmed with navy or red, or sunbuck black and orange stripe, just to name two, with the characteristic pajama-style neckline and no collar. Big, max. big.

Heavy ski pajamas for boys up to size 20, or flannel, in the same range, will take care.

of cold camp nights. Sweat-shirts for camp or home are as varied as campers themselves.

"We used to have just one crew-shirt, the classic crew-neck grey," remarks "Mr. Allen," but now we've got 'em with zippers and even crew-neck or non-crew: hoodies or no hoods; and e o l o f a ! There's no end to it.

Stu-at-homes, spending idle afternoons in Allen's $19.98 sandbox — it has two pockets, just like an ample pair of shorts — are testing the sandbox's strength by jumping on the wooden scale they can take it and probing the canvas canopy. Playmates are in orbit on Allen's outdoor swings and hanging upside down from the gym.

Girls are wearing the denim shirt with the industrial skirt or the seersucker shirt with the glint rack — rack around the hem. Boys, little boys, that is, are wearing wing stripe sunsuits.

Bubbling suits! A cotton pigie has a navy helmsman top and a bubble bottom of the same bright print used in the cotton shirt. The stretch blouse, pink or blue, is a basic tank with a little pleated skirt no longer than an afternoon nap.

Thigh-length terry popovers cover up "anore swim" and wear a hooded terry jacket with narrow red trim masculinely.

Denim shorts are belated stretch in all colors, and denim matching sweat-shirts are the greatest boon to Allen's faithful since dactyl. Size 3-14.

Allen's happiest summer toy is the bell-shaped Nafusa hat, $2, reversible to denim. Boys and girls.

And did we mention laundry bags? Denim, for camp, at $1.50.

NO SLIP
With Heavy Cottons. Underneath the underpinning industry. The Fabric Shop on Chambers Street flings out bolts of poplin-like cottons so closely woven that a slip is unnecessary on warm summer days.

Make a shift, wrap, skirt or shorts from any of these dainties. If you're tall and dainty, you can carry the black cotton with chalk-white and tobacco daisies big as platters.

A Tiffany glass print of blue white and olive flowers, each outlined with black, is another one for the big girls.

Narrow awning stripes of black, avocado and white could be worn by anybody. We like this fabric especially because the stripes vary in width so that monotony doesn't have a chance.

Another stripe that comes and goes in widths is red-navy-white and still a third is royal-blue-white.

A white pigie has dazzling red leys and its mail is black leys. You could make a more demure shift from the white pigie with its black daisies. If Tiffany glass is not your style.

For a conservative "town" dress this summer, the Chambers Street Fabric Shop suggests one of its dark nubdy rayon, perhaps the navy, real or deep olive, or the chambray in bronze or rust.

For easy buy big shoppers at The Fabric Shop if they aren't all sold out by now.

SIXTEEN ARE FINE
In Borough Court, sixteen Princeton area residents were among the more than 20 fined Monday night by Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tami Jr., during a busy session which lasted until 1 a.m. Thirteen fines stemmed from traffic violations.

Three were fined for careless driving — William D. Hammer, 18, 67 Locust Lane, and Mrs. Anne A. Cabell, 65, 10 Fellman Street, both $15, and Matthew N. Nicoll, 18, 247 Western Way, $25. In addition, Mr. Nicoll's license was revoked for 30 days for driving Cabell's automobile until she passes a re-examination by the Motor Vehicle Department.

Robert O. Smyth, 22, 321 Nassau Street, was fined twice: $15 as an "unlicensed driver and $12 for a stop-sign infraction. Improper passing violations drew $15 fines for Lee P. Newirth, 31, Province Line Road, and Frederick F. Pelton, 20, 8 Humbert Lane.

Also fined $15 each were James G. Woodward, 21, 27 Southern Way, improper driving of plates; Mrs. Margaret E. Broadwater, 22, in Harrison Street, failure to yield at an intersection. It is a b. e. t. L. Schmidt, 25, 216 Hodge Hall, Princeton Seminary, unregistered vehicle; and Alice Charlotte R. Raymond, 21, Cherry Valley Road, allowing passengers to ride in a manner not intended.

Other drivers fined were Roger C. Mills, 61 Prospect Avenue, $30 for speeding; Karen J. Marrow, 19, 121 Birch Avenue, $12 for "red light" violation; and Richard R. Hagadorn, 17, 20 Vandeventer Avenue, $10 for driving with an unlighted license plate.

Crusher Fined $35. In criminal court, James H. Case, 19, Route 206, Skillman, was fined $25 after pleading guilty to a disorderly person charge. Police had charged Case with trespassing and loitering at the campus reunion site of the University Class of 1955. Police added that Case had stolen a Class of '55 costume and kept returning to its reunion, despite repeated warning from Lt. Francis Maguire.

Another non-alumnus was released in $500 bail after he was found at 5 a.m. Sunday morning in Edwards Hall under the influence of alcohol. Edward L. Silvia, Jr., 21, of Trenton, a former Princeton resident, was charged with loitering.

Topics Of The Town

A continued charge of malicious mischief was lodged when Silvio ripped out the mechanism of the toilet in his cell located in the basement of Borough Hall. A third charge was added when the defendant directed offensive and abusive language toward police officers and shouted threats at them.

Colin Leitch, 18, 106 Broadmead, was ordered to pay $10 court costs after he withdrew a charge of assault he had made against Richard Tafano, 273 Witherspoon Street. In his complaint, Leitch told police that Mr. Tafano had pulled a pen knife out of his pocket during an altercation between them.

$423,470 IS GOAL
OF United Fund—Red Cross. The Princeton area United Fund—Red Cross campaign goal for 1966 has been set at $423,420. This represents an increase of $38,155—or 10½%—over 1965.

The goal is the result of weeks of study of the budgets and needs of the various agencies which the United Fund serves. The Board of Trustees for the Fund reviewed the detailed budget committee report presented by chairman Max D. Blumenfeld, and the Red Cross budget as reviewed by the joint United Fund—Red Cross Committee.

A comprehensive report was presented by Philip Mula, chairman of the Citizens' Committee of Progress as was a report of the Central Services Panel. A special allocation was established for the budgetary need of the Council of Community Services in 1966 subject to final approval by the trustees.

Agency allocations for 1966 are: Philip Mula, Chairman of the Citizens' Committee of Progress, $50,000; George Washington Council Boy Scouts, $17,000; Cerebral Palsy Association, $2,000; Children's Home Society of N. J., $2,811; Hightstown YMCA, $9,128; Mercer Girl Scouts, $8,000; Retarded Children's Association, $4,500; Visiting Nurse Association, $10,085; and Home Service, $7,787.

Also, USO Mercer Service Center, $9,000; Child Guidance Center, $31,500; Family Service Agency, $43,127; Mental Health Association, $7,000; Princeton Nursery School, $25,000; U.S.O. National, $2,000; Princeton YMCA, $41,000; Social Work Education, $80; and Monticemy Township Community Center, $5,420. ### Garden Tips

How Much To Water —

Many trees, particularly those planted last year, are dying or will die unless properly cared for. Rainfall during the critical months of March, April and May was considerably below normal. This is the time when trees need moisture to put on new growth. Far too few homeowners, however, gave their trees supplemental watering during this period. Even if a tree looked out, you can't be sure it will survive this summer.

To help save these trees, shrubs and evergreens, make a basin around the base of each and soak thoroughly, anywhere from a depth of 12 to 18" and deeper for larger trees. Next fill the basin with a mulch 4 to 6" deep using salt hay, wood chips, peat moss, straw or similar material.

With a mulch of this depth, a thorough soaking every two weeks will be enough to assure proper growth for the season. Light daily sprinkling can be dangerous since it encourages root growth toward the surface and increases the chances for winter damage.

Make Dad
a King
on Father's Day with a Floating Chaise from Sylvan

All summer long dad will thank you as he stays cool in the water lounging on his floating chaise from Sylvan. Made of polished aluminum tubing with white and aqua saron webbing, the Ethafoam floatation is firmly secured with vinyl. It's lightweight, yet holds a 250-pounder. Folds easily for storage. (Sorry, dad, the model's not included).

Or give dad a Sylvan floating chair. The folding chair is made of natural aluminum with heavy duty saron webbing, and the Ethafoam floatation is secured with vinyl.

Another great gift for dad is the Sylvan octo lounge. The aluminum and foam frame is covered with heavy, vinyl coated canvas. The jacket is water repellent, mildew treated with solid brass zippers for changing the jacket in seconds.

Chairmen for the prom

By Archimedes (Beard)
If you are plagued with dry hair, don't feel too badly; you have lots of company. Like dry skin, this condition calls for special set, sensible care for hair, and much lubrication. Cream, dry hair conditioners and cholesterols. All treatments are usually effective, as is scalp massage with a good dry lotion. Extra minutes of brushing... not too vigorously... helps stimulate oil-gland production. Women with dry hair should avoid hot water and avoid use of sharp or over-lyt setting implements.

If your hair lacks life and luster and is hard to manage, a visit to our salon is the solution to your problem. Expert operators trained in proper care and handling of your hair condition are anxious to serve you at ZAVENWOOD BEAUTY MANOR & COSMETIC SHOP, 69 Palmer Square, West, Phone: 824-3882. Open 8 days a week plus Thursday and Friday evenings. Particular attention given to attractive styling for the mature women.

$2 million non-profit nursing care center near Princeton, N.J. offers unequalled care and comfort hospital-like features

The new $2 million Meadow Lakes Nursing Care Center in Hightstown, New Jersey—a part of the magnificently landscaped Meadow Lakes Village retirement community—is now accepting resident nursing patients. This modern 90-bed Center provides—at reasonable cost—the most comprehensive nursing care available anywhere, combined with facilities and services usually associated only with hospitals.

carefully observed. There are convenient floor kitchens in each wing. The Center is non-profit and sponsored and operated by The Presbyterian Homes of the Synod of New Jersey, Inc. It is entirely non-sectarian. Private rooms are $165 per month; semi-private rooms $125 per week.

There are no extra charges. The basic rate includes round-the-clock nursing care, meals, and use of all medical facilities and services in the Center. Physicians and drugs are paid for by the patient, who may select his own physician, or use our staff members from the Princeton Medical Group.

Each spacious room is handsomely appointed and decorated and opens on landscaped courtyards and gardens. Every room has a lavatory, individually controlled heating and air-conditioning, private telephone, a direct patient nurse. Executive communications system, business dresser and ample closet space. Beautiful public areas include 2 large solariums or day rooms and 2 patients' dining areas—all of which can also be used for TV and other social activities.

Patients may use the recreational and community services (barber and beauty salons, hobby and craft rooms, etc.) of Meadow Lakes Village.

Besides the cost advantages, modern medical and nursing facilities, and beautiful surroundings—it is the environment of comfort, sympathetic, personal care which makes the Meadow Lakes Nursing Care Center so unique. As one of our residents put it, "Here I am treated as a friend—not a patient."

4-H WINNER AND 27 RIBBONS: Miss Roberta Clark, shown with 27 ribbons (mostly blue) won in state 4-H activities over the past five years, will be one of two New Jersey representatives at a 4-H conference next week at the University of Delaware, Newark. Her honors were for flower growing and arranging, public speaking, leadership and citizenship. Story, this page. (Staff Photo)

Topics Of The Week

"but already it is assured that the 1964-65 will be marked as a memorable year in the history of giving to Princeton."

Mr. Brown also reported that "Princeton alumni again played their customary central role in annual giving, by providing leadership and by raising the equivalent of the income on fifty million dollars' worth of endowment." The alumni surpassed their former high by a quarter of a million dollars, with forty classes setting new records and four topping the $60,000 mark. Seven major reunion classes — 1915, 1920, 1925, 1930, 1935, 1940 and 1950 — established all-time records for their respective reunion years.

MISS CLARK WINS AWARD
For 4-H Work, Miss Roberta Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley W. Clark Jr., 13 Robert Road, has won a state 4-H honor.

To be considered for the award Miss Clark compiled a complete record of her 4-H and community activities with emphasis on leadership, and submitted these for judging at Princeton University in competition with persons from other New Jersey counties. A student at Notre Dame High School, she has been active in various 4-H Junior leadership activities.

Miss Clark is an officer in the county Junior leader council, and has held various offices in the Princeton club. She has carried on numerous projects and activities in the flower growing and arranging field and has participated in public speaking programs. Last summer she took part in an exchange program with 4-H members in Pennsylvania.

COMMITTEE IS FORMED
To Aid in Education Crisis: A Citizens Committee for Higher Education in New Jersey was formed as a first step toward solving the mounting problems in New Jersey's educational system. Named chairman of the Committee is Dr. Robert C. Goheen, president of Princeton University and a founder of the group. "Goheen described the state's crisis in education as 'most' important problem, and opportunity, facing New Jersey today."

The Citizens Committee will ultimately number between 75 and 100 members. Membership will represent a blend of leadership of every major segment of the New Jersey Community. Members of the committee from this area in addition to Dr. Goheen, include Henry Chauncey, President of Educational Testing Service; Elmer W. Engstrom, President of RCA; William M. Marvel, 141 Dods Lane, President, Educational World Affairs; James P. Stewart, 123 Mercer Street, President, DeLaval Turbine Inc. and Mrs. Peggy Keruey McNeil, Laurenceville Road, President, Trenton Times.

In addressing a gathering of the founding members in Newark, Dr. Goheen cited the following figures:

- This year, 5,000 qualified students were rejected for admission to the residential colleges of Rutgers. The State University ... 25% higher than the year before.
- Rutgers and the State Colleges are finding it possible to accept only 25 to 35 percent of the qualified applicants seeking admission into next fall's freshman class.
- As recently as 1957, 97 percent of the state's students were obliged to go outside of the state for their college education.
- This year, which ranks in seventh among the states in per capita personal income, ranks 47th in per capita expenditures on public education.

Dr. Goheen said the objectives of the Citizens Committee would be to insure that citizens are aware of the mounting crisis in state education, to make sure no citizen with children below college age remains unaware of his obligation to demand adequate educational opportunities for them and to urge support measures which promise improvement in the quality and quantity of public higher education. He stressed the Committee's intention "to insist on action and resist inaction."

"THAT'S UP, MAN!" Paratrooper Signs In. "When they open up the sides of the plane, and the air comes in like a wolf pack, and you see the ground and the farms from the doorway, you're kind of built up in the spirit of it. When you jump, you get his great feeling."

An 18-year-old paratrooper, Tower Hubble of 175 Nassau Street, son of Harmon E. Hubble, came home on leave last weekend. He's a member of the experimental 11th Air Assault Division, the youngest man in the 107th Airborne Battalion.

A former acrobat at Trinity Church, Boy Scout Troop 306's onetime highest scoring member, and a former lifeguard, Tower called it quits at Princeton High School last year and after eight months of hitchhiking around the country, enlisted in the Army on October 19, 1964. He was a few days over the minimum age.

"The Army is the best thing I could have done," he said on Monday, collapsing his lean 6'2" into a lawn chair. "Basic training was hard for me, because I wasn't really functioning. When I went to airborne school it was tough, but I was beginning to get with it."

"The DI can't get blood out of a stone, but he can get blood out of you," he continued ruefully. "Some of them are nice guys. They have a job to do, and they do it. When you realize that you have a job to do, then you're all right." Running his hand through his blond hair, he added,

"You apply as much of your potential as you possibly can. When you get to the point that you say, 'I'm gonna go as far as you can go, you're what they're looking for.'"

Officers' Candidate. Behind him are eight months of training at Ft. Dix, Ft. Benning and Ft. Stewart. He passed tests for Officers' Candidates' School and hopes to get into flight school sometime.

"I'm planning on going, but for me to go right now is to collide, same as if I go to college now. I'm not ready for it. A lot of kids are just playing with their opportunities. They don't mean to—they just don't realize it. Get yourself built, man, before you're on your way."

A great reader, he solved the monotony and strain of Army drills by "thinking of something else, sometimes I've read, maybe. We sing a lot of songs, and I can sing along with my mind a mile off."

As for food, "They give you 3,600 calories a day minimum—but what you eat to get them, especially in the field, you never know, man! They'll give you three weeks' food in a cin-

"YOU REALLY PUSH YOURSELF in the Army," says Pvt. Tower Hubble, 18, of the 11th Airborne. "Especially on these endurance runs. You go at a hard pace, in a formation. You get to the point where you can lift your legs, but you can't get them stretched out for the next step. Then you look at the go-and-so in front of you. If he can make it, you can." The 11th Air Assault, Tower explained with a glint in his blue-green eyes, has just completed its experimental stage. The unit is combat ready.

"In a regular infantry division, you'll be trucked as far as you can be, then you get out and march. In the 11th Air Assault, you're flown in helicopters and delivered to your objective either by parachute or repel. They want it there in a hurry."

"Repel means by a 100-ft. nylon rope, and it stretches about one-third of its length. You wear an asbestos glove to control it. This is really an experience! It's great!"

"Land Like A Rock." A member of a reconnaissance platoon, he jumps with a 25-lb. 90 mm recoilless rifle. "The whole thing is barrel" and nine rounds of ammunition weighing 9 lbs. each. "You hit like a rock. Actually, the more equipment you have on, the more it absorbs the job."

He has just returned from five days of maneuvers in the Georgia swamps. "Just like the jungle, man. It's a survival test. They dropped rations and we couldn't find them. They blew their cool left and right!"

At Ft. Benning, "I met marines, frogmen, everybody. When these marines get to jump school, they grunt like anybody else." You start jumping from 34-ft. towers, then you go to 1,200 from C-130 troop transports, or from C-119 flying box cars when you're

PUTOUT IN REVERSE: Yale's first baseman, Bob Bartlett, is actually tagging first from foul territory. When Dan Adams, Princeton runner starting his slide, hit sharply to him in Saturday's game, Bartlett flailed the ball and then shot across the bag off balance. He failed to touch it, but beat Adams back to it by a couple of steps. Tigers rallied to win, 4-3. (Tim Hoadler Photo)

SPORTS In Princeton

"DID IT HURT MUCH, DAN?" "Not Really, Son." In the 248 Yale-Princeton baseball game held before last Saturday, there had been many occasions when one player became a hero by bringing in the winning run in some spectacular fashion. Breaking up tie ball games in the last of the ninth have been such feats as a suicide squeeze play, a ringing double that kicked off chalk far down the left-field foul line and a home run with two aboard that snatched defeat from victory. Taking his place with those of bygone years who have been responsible for providing the climax to winning rallies is Princeton shortstop Joe Sisco. Five or ten years from now, when Sisco tells his son that he drove in the run that beat Yale, 4 to 3, back in '65, he can add that he did it with his heel rather than with his bat.

Frank Biondi trotted across the plate to seal the Tiger triumph when Eli Hurter Don Raymond's first pitch in a bases-loaded situation banged Sisco squarely on the back of his right foot. It was momentarily painful, but the Princeton senior covered the 90 feet to first base without a noticeable limp, and that was the ball game.

It was also the fourth Princeton run to cross the plate during the drawn-out contest without the aid of a hit. The victors got only six off the three Yale pitchers who split the mound chores that afternoon, and none scored a runner. An even dozen wearers of Orange and Black were left stranded on the bases, but the four who scored gave Princeton its 194th triumph in the long series that began a century ago.

Tigers Take Early Lead. The home team got half its hits in the first inning, but still managed only one run. Frank Biondi, Wally Uhle and Captain Jack Singer slugged in succession to fill the bases with Princeton, but the home tally to cross the plate was achieved on a walk to Sisco.

Another run followed in the second, Dan Adams completing the circuit after he walked, on a sacrifice, a fielder's choice and a fly to right by Singer. The kill time it up when the ball knocked starter Tom Scott out of the box in the fifth, but Princeton appeared to have taken a major step toward victory when it pushed over a run in the last of the eighth, this one coming in on a bases-filled race to catcher Tom Pepper.

However, sophomore Graham Marcato, who had been giving a strong relief performance, ran into trouble in the ninth. A sharp single to right with three Yalies aboard scored one, and the second run was erased at the plate only as a time-two hop throw by Singer.

Biondi opened the last of the ninth with a double to right center and Uhle was intentionally passed. Singer sacrificed them along and pinch-hitter Joe Lusoga was purposely passed, setting up the three-aboard situation that put the hero's mantle on Joe Sisco when he was hit on the heel by the next pitch.

Next Year? The triumph gave Princeton the Big Three title in baseball and a surprisingly fine season's record of 21 and 5. All three of the pitchers who were responsible for 20 of the victories (third baseman Wally Uhle won one game as a converted pitcher in Florida) will return next spring, giving —Continued on Page 2

Over 65?
$200 a month extra can be yours for life!

No pipe-dream this—but the guaranteed reality of a Manufacturers Life Annuity. Whether you live for five years or twenty-five or more, you'll get an additional check for $200 every month.

Let's face it—you've put in a lot of hard work over the past forty years or so. Your retirement years are your reward. The finest way to enjoy your retirement is to have an adequate and worry-free income. The best way to achieve this is to buy a Manufacturers Life Annuity.

You hand over to Manufacturers Life the worry and risk of maintaining an income. Through the annuity arrangement, your capital and the interest it earns are "scientifically" committed to give you a guaranteed income for the rest of your life.

How much does an annuity cost? It depends on the income you need to carry out your dreams and plans for those years after 65. For example, the lifetime monthly income of $200 we were talking about would cost a man of 65 only $36,920.

It's well worth looking into. The Man from Manufacturers has all the details. Give him a call today.

Spurs in Princeton

rise to appreciation that the Tigers will have another fine season.
It could be, since there is strength down the middle with Pepper already a veteran sophomore catcher. Scott, Marcot and John Redpath better-than-average pitchers. Captain-elect Rin Landeck set to replace Sisco at short. Adams back at second as a junior and Frank Riondi, a standout on defense, available for his third year in center.

The question, however, is how much the loss of the team's only 300 hitters
— Uile and Singer — will do to place even more of a burden on the Tigers. None else could buy a base hit at the right time, and the number of potential runs left on second and third was astronomical.

No one—even Uile and Singer — was 500 in Eastern League play; no Princeton player was named to the first team chosen at the end of the season. Uile and Singer earning positions on the second nine because replacements of their ability are unlikely to be found, even the wild pitching that the Tigers should have next year is unlikely to achieve repetition of this season's fine 21-and-8 mark, and second place in both the Eastern League and the NCAA District II Tournament.

CREW AT SYRACUSE

National Regatta Saturday
All three Princeton crews will row Saturday in the National regatta being staged on Lake Onondaga at Syracuse.

While the distance is three miles, based on the Eastern Sprint Championships last month over a 2,400-meter course, there appears to be little hope for a strong showing by the Tigers. None of the Princeton heavyweight boat qualified for the six-crew final in the sprint.

TWO WINNERS: Princeton High's brand new girls' track team won two first-place spots in the 25-school state meet held at Ashbury Park. PHS girls as a whole ranked third among the 29 participating teams. Winners were Michael Hill, hurdler, and her twin, Joanne Hill with a 55-foot shot put.
On Saturday at the AAU meet in Newark, Michael won third place in hurdles. She was in the lead and headed for the first place ribbon when she fell.

SPECIALIST IS HONORED

Don Roth a 7-Letterman. A quarter-century ago, it was not uncommon for a class to produce half a dozen athletes who won letters in three sports. It was not so much a question of athletic ability as the fact that less rigorous academic requirements made year-round participation in sports perfectly feasible.

Today, however, the athlete who finds time to hold membership on three teams and still maintain satisfactory grades is a true rarity. The class of 1963 had just one, but Don Roth was so adept at what he did that on Monday they gave him a special trophy to symbolize his accomplishments.

The 22-year old resident of Bethesda, Md., was a member of seven championship Ivy League teams during his three varsity years, and he was a defensive standout on each. He won a letter each winter that the Tigers captured the Ivy crown in basketball, frequently being assigned to guard a high scorer in the back court.

Roth played junior varsity football as a sophomore, but earned a starting berth on the varsity the following year. Last fall, he drew All-Ivy recognition as a corner back on the Tiger team that won them all.

Although he had never played lacrosse before, he went out for the sport in his junior year and under Ferris Thomson's coaching won a letter as a defenderman. He repeated this past spring, and in each of

More Honors For Bradley

Two of the highest honors
Princeton University centers upon members of the graduating class went on Monday to Bill Bradley, who has departed with virtually every Princeton and Ivy League basketball record to his credit, as well as four set in NCAA Tournament competition. He shared a third award with Cosmo Iacavazzi, All-American captain of the championship football team.

Bradley received the Harold W. Dodds award as the senior who "best embodies the high example set by Dr.
Dodds during his tenure as 13th president of Princeton."
He was also voted the Class of 1961 Medal as the senior who, in the judgment of his classmates, has done
most for Princeton.

The two superlative athletes were joint recipients of the William W. Roper Trophy, University's highest athletic award. Undoubtedly the finest fullback ever to play at Princeton, Iacavazzi—like Bradley
—leaves with a total of four Princeton and three Ivy League records to his credit.

these years, Princeton tied for the Ivy title.

YOUNG BROTHERS WIN
In Springdale Tournament.
A pair of last-ditch victories in the semi-final rounds gave the Young Brothers, Don and George, the Governors' Cup championship at the Springdale Golf Club last weekend.
In the semi-finals, Don Dunahue and Norman Schuele earned them an extra hole by bowling out on the 18th green.
To earn the title, the Youngs defeated Bob Lewis and Dick Leiber, 1 up. In the other semi-match Saturday, Lewis and Leiber had trimmed Maury Mather and Tom Brophy, 2 and 1.

The final round of the President's Cup is expected to be played this week between Bill Wilson and Charlie Foster. The latter eliminated Eddie Douvan, 2 up, on Sunday.

In the annual "Pro's Tournament," sponsored for women members by Al Niederlitz, Mrs.
Robert S. Shaw won the most of cards over Mrs. George N.
Burke.

In the nine-hole Pro Tournament held the same day last week, Mrs. E. E. Shaw won was also the winner on a match of cards, Mrs. Clifton C. Bennett was runner-up.

Tournament will be played Monday, July 3, Marking Inde-arriving off at that hour from

GIANTS WIN SERIES
In YMCA Midget League.
For the sixth consecutive year, the Giants are the champions of the Princeton YMCA Midget Baseball League. They defeated the Orioles, 5-2, Friday in the final game of a best-of-three world series.
Mark Anderson was the winning pitcher in relief of Dick Jackson. Carlos Nanni, the first of three Oriole hurlers, was the lone Scott Richardson and Dick Sward fanned up.

After scoring two in the first, the Giants appeared to be firmly in the driver's seat as they pecked away to build up a 5-0 margin. Then in their last at-bat, the Orioles loaded the bases on a error, a walk and a hit by Scott Anderson.

With two down, Hugh Fitzpatrick batted a long single to center, scoring Roger Seltzer and Mitch Schuler. The uprising died when Anderson, trying to score from third, was cut down at the plate on a great peg from centerfielder John Petrone.

On Wednesday the Giants recovered from a shaky series start by trouncing the Orioles in the second game, 12-6.

This five-day intensive training camp is sponsored by the Middle States Lawn Tennis Association. To qualify, participants must still be eligible to play in 16-and-under tournaments, and have demonstrated an interest and ability for competitive play. Miss Endersby has earned a MISLA ranking in the 16-and-under division for her play in tournaments last season.

In other tennis news, the Community Tennis Program has announced that all junior leaders are welcome to attend an organizational meeting next Thursday from noon to 1:30. It will be held at the backboards of the university courts, or if it rains, in the all-purpose room of the YMCA.

Operator Lorraine T. Cross: tracer of missing persons

Mr. H. W. Haldeman wrote us:

"On Thursday morning of this past week I was in Camden on business and received a call from my secretary advising me that my sister out in San Francisco had called me at the office to say she was rushing to the hospital—her husband had just been involved in a very serious accident. Unfortunately in her distraught condition, she failed to give my secretary the name of the hospital before she hung up, so I had very little information to go on.

"I called the local operator and told her my problem, saying I could give her nothing but my brother-in-law's name and that he must be in an emergency ward somewhere in San Francisco. She was most cooperative, and assured me she would do everything possible. To make a long story short, this remarkable young lady of yours had me connected to the doctor in the particular hospital who was in charge of the case in no more than 20 minutes. Armed with such meager information as she was, I think this was an outstanding example of efficiency and service!

"I trust that you will be able to see that she receives a 'well done' for her excellent detective work over the long line. I am always appreciative of special service—this I believe was a most outstanding example."
At New Jersey Bell, all our operators know we believe in giving that extra bit of special service. After all, the best possible phone service—that's our job.
